

Masashi Kishimoto: The Savior of boredom

It is Masashi Kishimoto. He was born in 8. November 1974 in Nagi. Nagi is a town in Japan. When he was kid, he liked Manga's very much, so he was inspired by Manga's and after a While he started something like that himself. If you don't know what Manga's are. Manga is the Japanese term for comics. The first Manga that he has written, was Karakuri and its not believable, but after that work he won the best Amateur-Manga. He became famous of the Naruto-Manga, which brought him the title of the 3rd best Manga-writer of the world. Masashi Kishimoto has a twin brother and he became a famous Manga-writer too. His name is Seishi Kishimoto.

I have selected him, because of his work, that he has done. He also created my favourite Manga's Naruto and Boruto. There is so much pain and love in the Manga's, what is conveyed to the reader. I don't know how he did it, but the characters got big credits from me. He spent so much time from his live, just to we can read something beautiful.

If I would be honest, I would not do the same thing as he did, because I am a just normal fan and reader. To draw and write these things is too difficult for me.

So that was my Characteristics about Masashi Kishimoto. I hope you enjoyed it well and you liked it.
